

I wish to express my support for RM-10352 as it will protect this important part of the band for CW and other Narrowband modes which would suffer greatly from the use of less spectrum efficient wideband modes. This would be even more severe during poor band conditions and during heavy use periods including times during emergencies.